June 2010 Grade Boundaries

The Qualifications Handbook sets out the notional grade boundaries for the Law and Practice units. Notional grade boundaries offer tutors and students the opportunity to understand the approximate level of achievement necessary to pass and achieve certain grades of success in an assessment. Notional grade boundaries, however, are not fixed boundaries, and, as a part of its ongoing quality assurance of the assessment process, ILEX reserves the right to amend its notional grade boundaries for individual examination sessions.

ILEX takes every precaution to ensure that the level and quality of each of its examination papers is appropriate for students. As a part of its commitment to robust quality assurance at every stage of the examination, ILEX also scrutinises candidate performance before final results are determined. In this way, ILEX can identify and address any issues with the performance of specific examination papers and specific questions on examination papers, and where there are issues that are known to have affected candidate performance adversely, reflect this in the way in which the final grade boundaries for the examination results are set.

The final grade boundaries for the June 2010 examinations are set out in the table below.
